Superintendent's Highlights

Highland School District is continuing to move forward with the strategic planning process. Curriculum alignment and planning with the community continue to be a priority item for administration.

Highland Schools continues to offer a quality educational and extra-curricular program. Students scored at or higher than the state average on all standardized tests. Great improvement was shown with IRI scores.

The secondary music program participated in a large group festival and a jazz festival during year.

As a small A-4 school we participated in drama, music festival, debate and athletics. Strong support by our staff continues to be the key to our success.

Progress Towards Meeting District Goals

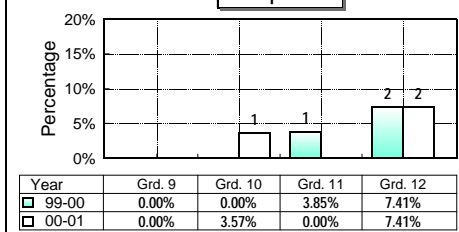

2000-01 Goals	Progress
Continuation of the School Improvement Process. The community-based committee will finish the school profile, community surveys, and review of the mission and beliefs statement for the district and report to the community as a whole.	Items were completed as stated.
Long term planning for facility and education needs will begin and be developed in conjunction with the School Improvement Process.	Inservice with the Board of Trustees and Administration was completed with the Idaho Administrators Association. A list of needs is being developed for consideration during the summer of 2001.
Curriculum alignment process for Reading and Literature will be facilitated during the spring of 2001.	Reading curriculum was aligned with goals and objectives of the State of Idaho Standards. Listing of activities and consideration of assessment for student improvement will be under consideration during the upcoming school year.
